

BUCKING BUFFALOES TO BE BIG ATTRACTION OUTLAW ANIMALS TO ENTERTAIN ROTARIANS

ONE of the bucking buffaloes which will be star attractions at the International Rotary Wild West show at the state fair grounds, next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Wild, plunging bronchos are not the only animals the venturesome buckaroos and buckarettas will try to tame at Ogden International Rotary Wild West show at the Utah state fair grounds next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. There will be other ungovernable "critters" in the big corral, awaiting the pleasure of the Rotarians and the champion broncho busters of the west.

Among these animals with well-developed bucking tendencies, are some buffaloes, brought to Salt Lake especially to take part in the big show. The bison of the American plains, when it comes to bucking, can show most horses a merry afternoon. Likewise, few of the best riders in the country have succeeded in staying on the broad backs of the buffaloes.

In addition to the buffaloes, there will be unruly mules—and a mule can be cantankerous when he wishes, which is generally all the time—and some ill-tempered steers, the kind with long horns, supple legs and bony backs.

The Ogden International Rotary Wild West show will be the largest exhibition of the sort ever staged. Though the performance on the first afternoon (Thursday) will be primarily for the benefit of the thousands of visiting Rotarians, this exhibition, as well as all others, will be open to public patronage. A nominal admission fee will be charged to the grounds, bleachers and grandstand—

CHINA HAS ITS STRIKE

Members of Cabinet Have Resigned and a Crisis Is Now On.

PEKING, June 14.—In consequence of difficulties created by the popular movement against pro-Japanese members of the government, the cabinet has resigned and President Hsu Shih Chang has also intimated his intention to quit office.

It is anticipated that parliament will decline to accept the president's resignation. This would amount virtually to a vote of confidence in the chief executive, which is needed to strengthen his hand in his fight against the militarists.

Strikes throughout the country are causing railway traffic to be impeded and the situation in China is awkward.

REBEL FORCES ON THE BORDER LINE

HEADQUARTERS OF GENERAL FELIPE ANGELES, June 13.—General Felipe Angeles, commander of the rebel forces in the vicinity of Juarez, granted a four-hour interview to a correspondent of the Associated Press this afternoon.

With General Angeles are Martin Lopez, next in command, Ramon Vega and General Holguin.

General Angeles is in the best of spirits and says he is confident of his cause. His forces are well equipped, his valiant horses are the best seen below the border and equal of those of American cavalry.

General Angeles is well supplied with funds and states he is paying for everything he obtains from the ranch folk.

The most surprising thing is his men—they are not the ordinary run of revolutionists, they are big and strong and when some were asked about Juarez, they smiled and said:

"We can take Juarez in three hours." When General Angeles was asked what he intended to do about Juarez, he said:

"I do not know whether to take the city or not. If I told you, that would be military information and of course, I have nothing further to say about Juarez."

In speaking of his nearness to the port city and conditions in all Mexico, General Angeles said:

"For my part," and here he laid his hand on his heart, in some agitation, "I have no aspirations; I have no desire or wish to be the big man in Mexico; I have no desire to be heralded as the redeemer of my country which has been torn and bled for nine years. The only ambition I have is to aid and assist these other leaders with me in redeeming my country. The sufferings of my countrymen have been intense these many years, in reestablishing the respect of other countries we had once before."

"How many men have I?" he said, when asked by the correspondent, and answered: "I have a small command here."

"General Villa is to the south and his troops number the largest," General Angeles continued. "Which way he is moving, his exact location, however, is military information and of course, not for publication. General Villa, who has been the mainstay in the revolutionary movement, has been charged with many things of which he is innocent. I know him so well and I know that things attributed to him were caused by others with ulterior purposes."

Asked if he would authorize the Associated Press to disclose that he and Generals Holguin, Ramon Vega, and Martin Lopez were in the vicinity of Juarez, General Angeles replied:

"Yes. You can say that I am here; that is all I want to say about military affairs."

"But the immediate future, general?" "I do not wish to discuss any military affairs arranged for the future, but time will tell."

Speaking of Martin Lopez, the general said:

"Martin is a youngster, well educated and the most humiliating thing to me is the fact that he has been charged, like General Villa, with crimes and depredations he never had anything to do with. He is a model boy and those who know him best, know that his whole heart and soul is in this revolution for the establishment of a democracy in Mexico; to end the sufferings of the Mexican poor and to pull down those usurpers who have caused this trouble to Mexico so long."

"The men of our revolution know what they are fighting for, they will never give up until they win a victory for the common people, advocated so strenuously by President Wilson, which sent so many Americans and American resources to Europe in their fight for equality, democracy and the safeguarding of all institutions."

Federal Forces

JAUREZ, Mexico, June 12.—In a statement issued late today General Francisco Gonzales said his scouts had located a number of small bands of armed rebels and had exchanged shots. There was no evidence, he said, to indicate the presence near Juarez of any considerable number of rebels. He declined to discuss the report that the rebels had sent a woman through his lines with a challenge to come out and fight.

Business proceeded here about as usual throughout the day, and the number of American visitors showed no sign of diminution. Saloons and gambling places were open, and well patronized by civilians. Soldiers in squads and detachments passed hurriedly through the streets, but there was no excitement and no shooting was heard.

The nearest thing to excitement occurred late this afternoon when something went wrong with the motor of a crowded El Paso bound street car. A fuse blew out with a report like a cannon shot. Several of the passengers in their haste to leave the car were cut and bruised but none were seriously hurt. The report was heard a block away and for a time it was believed to be the signal for the long awaited battle.

SENATOR KING WOULD DEPORT RUSS OFFENDERS

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Deportation of L. C. A. K. Martens and other representatives of the Russian soviet bureau in New York, was requested in letters sent today by Senator King of Utah to Attorney General Palmer and Secretary Wilson.

"It is time," Senator King wrote, "that these disturbances of our peace and enemies of our country and civilization should be driven from this land whose hospitality they have so grievously abused."

Senator King called attention to laws excluding from the U. S. of alien anarchists and said:

"There is no question but that the representatives of the Lenin-Trotsky organization come within one or more of the classes defined in the statute."

Deputies Suspended By the Sheriff of Salt Lake

SALT LAKE, June 13.—Sheriff John S. Corless of Salt Lake county, today suspended three of his deputies who were arrested by sheriff's deputies of Summit county recently on charges of bringing liquor into the state illegally. The suspension is temporary, pending an investigation of the charges.

FOCH IS READY TO ACT

French Commander Sends an Ultimatum to German Government.

COBLENZ, Friday, June 13.—(By The Associated Press.)—An ultimatum demanding the immediate continuation of the movement of Polish troops across Germany has been sent to the German government by Marshal Foch, according to dispatches received here from Spa.

Orders were issued at Berlin several days ago to hold up the Polish troop trains. One was held at Coblenz, another at Treves, two at Ems and eight in the interior of Germany. The transfer of Polish troops from France to Poland began about six weeks ago and was due to be completed on June 17.

A Berlin dispatch received on Friday night stated that Matthias Erzberger, chairman of the German armistice commission at Spa, had written General Dupont, chief of the French mission in Berlin, declaring that Poland intended to distribute two divisions of General Haller's troops along the frontier. It was said that Erzberger had protested that this was opposed to the terms of the armistice and that unless Poland abandoned her purpose Germany would be compelled to suspend the movement of the Polish army across Germany.

WANT THE MONROE DOCTRINE DEFINED

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Demand that the Monroe doctrine be defined in the covenant of the league of nations since no nation of the world has ever expressly accepted the doctrine, and that the former German emperor be tried by his own countrymen, is made in a memorandum submitted to peace conference by General Policarpo Bonilla, head of the Honduran delegation to the Paris conference.

"The Monroe doctrine," the memorandum made public here today, says, "directly affects the Latin-American republics. It has never been embodied in any international document nor has it been expressly accepted by any of the nations of the old or new worlds. It has furthermore been variously defined and applied by presidents and other statesmen of the United States and for these reasons it is indispensable that in the peace treaty about to be signed it shall be exactly defined so that it shall be written into international law."

"If this is done it will not be an obstacle to the union of the Latin-American countries to form a confederacy and thus realize the dream of Bolivar."

Regarding the trial of the kaiser the memorandum says:

"The Honduran delegation differs with the eminent lawyers who have drafted the provisions regarding the responsibility for the war. It considers the trial of the kaiser not according to legal principles, there being no international law or precedent for such a trial. The executive of any country is not responsible to any one except his own people. The only proper course would be to embody in the treaty an article to compel the German government to try all German subjects guilty of acts punishable by law, demanding at the same time certain guarantees as to the justice of the sentence. It is probable that this opinion will not be pleasing to this generation but after the heat of the moment is passed the people will realize that it is based on the greatest guarantee of social institutions, which is respect for the law."

Review of the Libel Suit Against Chicago Tribune

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., June 13.—Next week, the sixth of the trial of the $1,000,000 libel suit of Henry Ford against the Chicago Daily Tribune, will present a new phase of the defense to the jury in Judge Tucker's court. This week's testimony for the Tribune presented a picture of ceaseless turmoil along the Mexican border and in Mexico itself, of bandit raids into villages and isolated ranches, murder and pillage, millions of invested capital rendered unproductive, cattle rustling and the defensive measures of rangers, deputy sheriffs and soldiers.

Border witnesses were introduced to show that anarchy reigned for years along the border and that the only protection which could be invoked was that of American troops. In opposing the use of these troops, the Tribune contends that Mr. Ford justly earned the designation of "anarchist."

It was charged at the beginning of the trial that the Tribune's advocacy of intervention in Mexico was based on two motives, a design to aid remote relatives with private interests south of the Rio Grande and a pro-Germanism which sought to keep the United States out of the European war by embroiling it with Mexico.

ROUTIER IS TO BE KILLED

Found Guilty of Imparting Military Intelligence to the Enemy.

PARIS, June 14.—Gaston Routier, a prominent French journalist, was today sentenced to death by court martial for imparting military intelligence to the enemy. Routier, who is a Socialist, with extreme tendencies, was tried by default. He was charged with having agreed with German agents in Spain to start a French language paper there during the war for the purpose of carrying on Germanophile propaganda.

Gaston Routier founded the Madrid La Paix, in 1917. It was believed that Bolo Pasha, who was executed at Paris in 1918 for treason, furnished the funds for the establishment of the paper. An order for the arrest of Routier was issued by the French authorities in October, 1917, but his arrest has never been reported.

WILSON AGAINST MOONEY STRIKE

Secretary of Labor Outspoken at Meeting of Federation in Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 13.—Secretary of Labor Wilson, speaking before the convention of the American Federation of Labor today, urged organized labor to refuse to support the nationwide strike which has been proposed as a protest against the conviction of Thomas J. Mooney. Mr. Wilson told the delegates that the government was investigating the claim that new evidence justified a new trial and that he himself was devoting much time to the case.

The secretary declared that so far the government's inquiry had shown that the judge and jury before whom Mooney was tried had conducted themselves properly and that on the evidence the jury had to convict. He admitted that new evidence might develop which would alter the situation. "But," he continued, "for organized labor to participate in such a strike as is proposed would simply mean that labor was trying Mooney, without the benefit of evidence. Very few of us are familiar with all the evidence yet every working man is asked to make himself a juror. Justice cannot be obtained in that way."

Secretary Wilson then turned his attention to Bolshevism and was heartily cheered when he asserted that no element of American labor would stand for Bolshevism for a moment when the true meaning of the movement was understood. "We have no fear of political revolution in the United States. It may be possible these parlorites may be misleading a sufficient number of the laboring people to cause local disturbances that will be annoying but no one in the ranks of labor—whether he is classed as an extreme radical or an extreme conservative or in all the elements between those two—will stand for Bolshevism for a minute when he knows what Bolshevism itself stands for."

"They talk a great deal about the dictatorship of the proletariat and we who have been more or less familiar with the theories that have been promulgated by Marx and his acolytes of the dictatorship of the proletariat had interpreted the dream to mean that a majority of the workers of the land would determine the policy of it and impose it upon the balance of our people. And our workers were not willing to accept even that kind of a principle."

"The workers of this country, the laborers who have fought and struggled for all these centuries, take the stand that every person who has to obey the laws of a country ought to have a voice in determining what those laws should be and having fought through all the centuries for the accomplishment of that ideal, having accomplished it for themselves, then the American is not anxious to impose the same kind of disfranchisement upon other portions of the people that he had fought being imposed upon himself."

"The great distinction between slavery and freedom is that under freedom every man shall have the right to leave for any reason that may be sufficient to himself. We have proceeded to the extent of sacrificing our blood and our treasure against the dictatorship of the monarchial autocracy of Germany.

"The American working man wants nothing of that kind of dictatorship of the proletariat. The American working man wants nothing of that kind of obligatory labor. The American working man wants nothing of the political, social or economic conditions that have existed and still exist in Russia. We have worked out our scheme far beyond that stage and we are going to continue to work it out to the achievement of higher ideals and be the will of no advance guard, no matter how just or right their position might be, but by the will of the majority themselves."

Secretary Wilson pointed out that the conditions in eastern Europe and the United States were entirely different now and always had been. "Force in Europe may have been necessary," he declared. "Force to overthrow a monarchy may be great patriotism, but force in overthrowing a democracy, as some people are advocating, is high treason against the masses of the people."

President Gompers, after a roar of applause for Secretary Wilson had subsidized, said that workers everywhere realized the truth of the secretary's statements. He then took occasion to refer to Representative Blanton of Texas as "bleating Blanton" for remarks the congressman made recently about labor.

"As time goes on," Mr. Gompers said, "Blanton will be eliminated or left at home as others of his stamp have been."

President Gompers announced a committee had been appointed to cooperate with the electrical workers' committee in negotiating with Postmaster General Burleson in an effort to ward off the electrical and telephone strike called for Monday.

HOLLAND NOT TO AID IN BLOCKADE

PARIS, June 13. (By the Associated Press).—Holland has notified the peace conference that the government will not participate in a blockade against Germany in the event of the refusal of Germany to sign the peace treaty.
